The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which Applicant regards as the invention. The term "appropriate" (claim 1, line 3) is vague, and indefinite as to the limitation intended. Also, the term "near" (claim 4, line 8; and claim 6, line 2) is indeterminate in scope, and hence indefinite. Claims 2, 3, 5 and 7-14 depend from indefinite claims, and are therefore themselves indefinite.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Curtain et al. (U.S. Patent No.

Art Unit: 1724

4,554,390). See col. 1, lines 8, 27-29 and 32; col. 2, lines 63-65; col. 3, lines 34-38, 46-49 and 66-68; and Example 2.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Curtain et al. in view of Weitzen et al. (U.S. Patent No. 4,284,511). Curtain et al. discloses the claimed invention with the exception of contacting the brine undergoing treatment with the magnetite adsorbent in a fluidized bed, and drying and storing the loaded adsorbent prior to contact with the wash solution (claim 7). Weitzen et al. discloses contacting a liquid to be treated with a sorbent material in a fluidized bed; and it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to contact the brine and magnetite of Curtain et al. in the manner suggested by Weitzen et al., in order to promote contact between the magnetite and brine of this primary reference system and/or to prevent clogging of the sorbent bed in this primary reference system. Also, delaying removal of the sorbed constituent from the sorbent material in the manner recited in claim 7 is not seen to materially affect the overall results of the reference process, or to produce any new and unexpected result; and is therefore deemed to be an obvious matter of choice, which is insufficient to patentably distinguish this claim.

The references cited in the search report of the corresponding PCT application have been considered, and have been made of record in this application.
